BASIC REFEREE TRAINING CAMP

This referee training camp is designed for the new or less experienced on ice hockey official. It will focus on the basic mechanics of officiating such as positioning on the ice, sight-lines, icing, off-sides, calling of goals, physical condition and health, skating techniques of referees, and a basic review of rules of the game.

Even if you are a referee and have been for a year or two, you can benefit greatly from this camp and the instructors who facilitate it.

We are looking for parents, friends of the game, and/or spectators who are interested in officiating and helping to make sure that games can be played during the season.
